Japs Struggle To Get Positions In The Bilin Region

Bombers Assault Darwin Base In Two Raids

RANGOON, Burma, Feb. 19.—(P)—British troops drove Japanese forces trying to cross the Bilin "into the river," army headquarters reported today in announcing that violent fighting with heavy casualties on both sides raged all along this front about 50 miles east of Rangoon's railway link to the Burma road.

By DANIEL DELUCE
RANGOON, Burma, Feb. 19.—(P)—Heavy fighting raged today along the Bilin river, about 50 miles east of Rangoon's railway link to the Burma road supply line, as Japanese assault units struggled for positions on the western bank of the stream.

In the past 48 hours some parties of these shock forces, running a gauntlet of fire and hand-to-hand shore fighting, reached several precarious positions along the shoreline which British imperial forces are defending as the next to last natural barrier to vital railway.

Only the Sittang river would remain for a river-line defense of the railway if the Bilin were lost. Whether the first enemy footholds had been wiped out in the counter assault by hard fighting Indian Gurkhas was not yet known.

The Japanese were using captured Thalon, a short distance east of the Bilin estuary on the Gulf of Martaban, as a concentration point for troops thrown into the battle of the Bilin river.

The enemy used every available small boat for his crossings. What proportion of the small boats got through was not learned, but many of them were shattered in mid-stream by artillery fire or were raked by machine gunners.

Ashore, the invaders were subjected to harassing fire.

It was entirely possible that the Bilin could not be held against Japan's superior reservoirs of manpower. In this event, the British imperials would have to fall back to the west bank of the Sittang, a more formidable barrier, but perilously close (20 miles) to the Rangoon railway feeder to the Burma supply road to China. The Sittang is 30 miles west of the Bilin river which it roughly parallels as it also does the Salween, previously crossed by the Japanese in their drive around the Gulf of Martaban.

Attack Port of Darwin
SYDNEY, Australia, Feb. 19.—(P)—More than 100 Japanese bombers and escorting fighter planes attacked the north coast city and port of Darwin, potentially a vital United Nations naval and supply base, in two raids today in the first direct assaults on the Australian mainland.

Prime Minister John Curtin, from his hospital sickbed, announced that 72 bombers with protective fighter formations participated in the first raid this morning and that another wave of 21 bombers returned to the attack in the afternoon.

Four of the second group were said to have been shot down.

Curtin, who announced the raid in Australia's thinly settled, remote north, promised a full statement as soon as details became known.

A communique issued subsequently said the raid lasted about one hour and was directed both against the town itself and against shipping in the harbor.

Some casualties were inflicted and there was some damage to service installations.

Darwin's importance to the United Nations has grown as Japan's tide of conquest has rolled southward in the Pacific toward this island continent.

Its location on Australia's northernmost rim gives it a strategic geographic position not only as a fleet base but also as a gateway for supplies for the defense of the commonwealth.

The loss or incapacitation of Darwin might banish the United Nations' fleets from that area of the Pacific. Rear Admiral P. E. McNeil, engineering chief of the Australian navy, left for the west coast port of Perth, on the Indian ocean, early this month to direct work which had taken the prime minister himself there.

Sink Or Damage 182 Jap Ships

BATAVIA, N. E. I., Feb. 19.—(P)—A total of 182 Japanese ships had been sunk or damaged by the United Nations forces up to Feb. 14, according to an authoritative compilation published today by Aneta, official Dutch news agency.

Of the total, 109 were sunk, 28 probably sunk and 45 damaged. The number did not include the heavy losses known to have been inflicted on the enemy in the invasion of southern Sumatra, started last Saturday.

No Recapped Tire Services Until Feb. 23

Ration Board Is Given Order By James A. Potter

"You are not authorized to accept applications or issue certificates for retreading, or recapping tires, or for retreading or recapping services until February 23. From February 19th to February 23rd there will be no delivery of retreaded or recapped tires," states James A. Potter, state rationing administrator, in a communication received today by the county rationing board.

Other instructions given by Mr. Potter state:

"You may continue to issue certificates for new tires during this period (February 19th to 23rd) under the same procedure as you have been following.

"Please notify all dealers that from February 19th to March 1st no comeback of any kind may be used for retreading or recapping passenger type tires.

"Ministers will be eligible for new tires under certain conditions which are set out in Section 405 (b).

"You must hereafter issue certificates for new passenger tires of an obsolete type only to applicants who establish that the vehicle to be equipped is a passenger automobile falling within the eligible classes of either list A or list B (Section 503).

However, such obsolete tires are not charged against your quota.

"(A) No certificates are to be issued to provide tires for new vehicles of any type, including farm implements and tractors, which have been converted from steel rims requiring tires.

"(B) Applications by all prospective purchasers, including vehicle manufacturers, dealers and consumers, for permission to purchase new tires and tubes to be used as part of the original equipment of new vehicles must be made to the Director of Industry Operations, Washington, D. C.

"(C) Applications for permission to mount new tires or tubes owned or possessed by the applicant on new vehicles owned or controlled by him shall be made to the Director of Industry Operations, Washington, D. C.

(This ruling does not prohibit the issuance of certificates for spare tires and tubes for new vehicles in cases where the local board finds a spare necessary. Nor does it forbid issuance of certificate for replacement of a tire unserviceable by reason of size or construction.)

Sentry Killed When Rifle Was Discharged

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 19.—(P)—Army authorities said Pvt. Buford E. Bloodworth, 21, of Nevada, Mo., was killed while on sentry duty yesterday at a west coast camp when he evidently was examining a rifle which discharged accidentally.

Dennis Connor Held Prisoner By Japanese

La Monte Young Man Taken At Wake Island

Indication that Dennis Clifford Connor, with the United States Marines in the defense of Wake Island, taken over in the Japanese invasion of Pacific islands, is a prisoner of the Japanese is given further credence through a list of Americans believed held, announced by the navy department today.

The young man, twenty-two years old, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Connor, of La Monte, and following capture of the island his parents felt that he had been taken prisoner with others of the Marines putting up a valiant battle against overwhelming odds in an endeavor to hold that strategic point.

In Marines Two Years
Connor, a graduate of the La Monte high school, joined the Marines two years ago. He first spent some time at San Diego, and in the spring of 1941 was sent to Pearl Harbor. He was transferred from there to Wake Island two weeks before the attack on Pearl Harbor, December seventh.

Shortly before he left Pearl Harbor he visited there with Lloyd Curtis, another Pettis county young man, whose home was at Green Ridge. Curtis was in the Marines and lost his life when the ship Arizona was destroyed at Pearl Harbor.

Over 1,000 Prisoners

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—(P)—The navy department released today a list of 1,010 navy and marine corps officers and enlisted men presumed to have been taken prisoner by the Japanese on the islands of Wake and Guam and at Peiping, Tientsin and Shanghai, China.

Lieut. Commander John T. Tut-till, Jr., public relations officer of the Third Naval district, also made public a roster of 1,200 civilians who were employed in defense construction work on the two Pacific islands and who also are presumed to be prisoners of war.

The navy department statement pointed out that "because of the interruption of communications and the eliminating of contact entirely when the various outposts were overwhelmed, the navy department cannot have absolute information of the exact status of all individuals who were serving in the armed forces and of civilians who were engaged on public works undertakings.

However, from information that had been available up to the time or near the time of the capture of some of the groups, and from the rosters of personnel serving at the different places, it is presumed that those not otherwise

Given Ten Years Sentence For Bank Robbery

BOONVILLE, Mo., Feb. 19.—(P)—A Cooper county circuit court jury Wednesday convicted George Farmer, alias Robert J. Byrne, of robbery of the Bank of Hallsville in 1931 and sentenced him to 10 years in the penitentiary. It was his fourth trial on the charge. Twice previously he was convicted and sentenced to 10 years.

Dies Unexpectedly

C. I. Taylor, well known traveling salesman, for 40 years a resident of Sedalia, passed away suddenly of a heart attack while in a cafe in Hutchinson, Kas., on Wednesday night.

C. I. Taylor Dies In Kansas

Funeral Of Well Known Sedalian Be Held Friday

Charles I. Taylor, 69 years old, well known traveling salesman in Sedalia, passed away suddenly Wednesday night at Hutchinson, Kansas, in a restaurant where he had gone for his evening meal. Death was believed to have been due to a heart ailment.

Mr. Taylor, for the past thirty-nine years had traveled for and represented the Decatur Coffin Co., of Decatur, Ill., having as his territory western Missouri, and Oklahoma. He pioneered the territory in the early days traveling by train and carriage and in recent years made his territory by motor car.

Although he never complained of ill health he had suffered attacks which he attributed to indigestion. He left Sedalia a week ago last Tuesday to make a return route expecting to arrive home the last of the week. He had driven from Pratt, Kansas, to Hutchinson and went directly to the restaurant to have his evening meal before registering at a hotel there.

Popular Toastmaster
He was probably one of the best known toastmasters in Sedalia being called upon numerous times to preside over various banquets and meetings. His special interest was the U. C. T. in which he held various offices. Mr. Taylor served as grand counselor of the members of the U. C. T. He was also a member of the T. P. A.

Mr. Taylor was an ardent member of the Broadway Presbyterian church and served as a member of the Board of Trustees of the church.

He was born in Green County, Illinois, October 22, 1872 the son of the late H. W. and Nancy Painter Taylor. He was married to Miss May McClimans of Green County, Ill., and they came to Sedalia to make their home about forty years ago.

Surviving him is his widow Mrs. May Taylor, of the family home, 916 South Harrison avenue, one son, E. Lynn Taylor, of Kansas City, and a daughter, Mrs. Lawrence Geiger, wife of Dr. Lawrence Geiger, 912 South Prospect avenue. Also surviving is a grandson, Louis Whitbeck, a student in the Kemper Military Academy at Boonville.

Preceding him in death was a daughter, Miss Clara Taylor, and two brothers.

The body is being sent to the McLaughlin Funeral Chapel and is expected to arrive in Sedalia late this evening.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon at the Broadway Presbyterian church. In the absence of Reverend Herman Janssen, pastor, Reverend Ralph A. Waggoner, a former pastor of the church, will officiate.

Burial will be in the Crown Hill cemetery in the family lot.

Jack Taylor To Associated Press

Jack Taylor, former Sedalian, who for the past five years has been managing editor of the Canton Daily Ledger, Canton, Ill., has resigned that position to accept a position with the Associated Press in Chicago.

Mr. Taylor, prior to going to Canton, was for seven and one-half years news editor of the Sedalia Capital.

He will be joined in Chicago soon by Mrs. Taylor and their two sons.

Bothwell Hospital Notes

Mrs. Edwin Brady, Warsaw and Edwin Zimmerschied, 909 East Fifteenth street, have been admitted for surgery.

Ulysses S. Grant, 212 East Fifth street, was admitted for medical treatment.

Mrs. Charles Jenkins, route 5, underwent an operation this morning.

County Tax Levy To Be Reduced

Taxpayers of Pettis county will be happy to know that the county court will reduce the county tax levy from 51 cents to 44 cents on the $100 valuation this year, a saving of seven cents on the $100 valuation.

This comes as good news, particularly at a time when taxes are high, and going to be higher.

The reduction is possible because the court house bonds will be paid off next year, and the county has a sufficient surplus to make that payment without a levy as has been necessary in former years.

The court house bonds, covering the amount of $350,000, were for the period of from 1924 to 1943 inclusive.

The combined levies of school, county, road and state last year were $2.13 on the $100 valuation.

Convention Is Ended

Baptists In Three Days' Gathering At Church Here

Missouri Baptists closed their three day session in Sedalia this afternoon at 3:30. From all reports, by both home folks and visitors, this has been one of the most successful conferences that Missouri Baptists have held in years. The final registration of guests passed the 1,300 mark.

During the morning session, resolutions were adopted by the body, expressing profound appreciation on the part of the visitors for the warm reception and the wonderful provisions made for their comfort while in the city. The local committee was very appreciative of the cooperation of the Chamber of Commerce, the business men, the voice department of the Smith-Cotton high school, the local newspapers, and other denominations for their fine spirit of cooperation in making this conference possible.

Sermons by Dr. Truett

Dr. George W. Truett of Dallas, Texas, delivered his first sermon of the day at 11 o'clock this morning. His theme was "The Highest Duty and Privilege of the Earthly Life." He emphasized the fact that the highest duty and privilege of man is to carry out God's will and purpose in his individual life. This can be done successfully only when the individual prays the prayer that our Lord taught us to pray, "Thy will be done in the earth as it is in heaven."

Dr. Truett delivered his final address at 2:30 this afternoon. His parting message to Baptist ministers and laymen was embodied in this theme, "The Reward That Follows is the Way of Service." The gracious spirit of this "Soldier of the Cross" has made an impression on this community and Missouri Baptists that shall long be remembered.

The leaders of the topical sessions will be: Mrs. Harry Sneed, Mrs. H. C. Salveter, Mrs. O. J. Rumpf, Mrs. H. U. Campbell, Mrs. J. Fred King, Mrs. W. E. Hurlbut, Mrs. L. W. Miller, Miss Minnie Shaffer, Miss Harriet Guild.

The objects of prayer are many and varied, including all those in authority, Christians, unemployed, soldiers, sailors and aviators, and for a righteous peace, that all men everywhere shall know and worship the only true God.

Former Saline County Clerk Is Acquitted

FAYETTE, Mo., Feb. 19.—(P)—A jury in Howard county circuit court Wednesday acquitted Percy M. Brown, former Saline county circuit clerk, of a charge of embezzling $190.70 of Saline county funds.

The case was brought here on change of venue. Brown had been indicted by a Saline county grand jury.

Mass Forces To Carry The War To The Enemy

Stimson States Attacks On Coasts May Be Expected

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—(P)—Secretary of War Stimson said today that the nation should expect attacks "all along our coasts and other places" like the raids made by submarines on the Netherlands Caribbean Islands of Aruba.

The secretary urged at a press conference that the country be prepared also for pressure, from "thoughtless persons," to scatter defensive forces to meet such attacks.

"Yielding to that pressure would be the surest way I know of to lose the war," Stimson said.

Victory will be won, he declared, by massing our forces to carry the war to the enemy. He gave assurance that urgent preparations were being made now for offensive.

Noting criticism which he said had been voiced for failure of the United Nations to seize the initiative, Stimson promised that "we will seize every opportunity for counter attack and the offensive, and every opportunity for surprise."

Stimson announced that 90,441 volunteers joined the army in January, more than doubling the record of any month before Pearl Harbor or in the first World War.

"This shows the men who are going to fight this war are not yielding to defeatism or despair we sometimes hear of back of the fighting fronts," Stimson said.

He announced at the conference that three historic divisions had been ordered into active service and that a battalion of Filipinos living in the United States had been formed as a part of the army's speedy expansion.

Post Office To Close Monday, Feb. 23

Washington's birthday, a legal holiday falling on Sunday, the Post Office will be closed the entire day Monday, February 23.

There will be no delivery of mail by city or rural carriers and all windows will be closed.

Special delivery mail will be delivered as usual and all outgoing mail dispatched.

In addition to the regular holiday collection there will be a collection in the business district at 10:45 a. m. and 4:30 p. m.

EDW. P. MULLALEY, Postmaster.

Water Well Diggers To Convene Here

A state conference of Missouri water well diggers will be held in Sedalia for two days, Sunday and Monday, the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce announces.

The sessions of the meeting will probably be held at the Hotel Bothwell.

Outstanding speakers from over the state will present several addresses during the convention, and new officers for the year will be elected. R. A. Foster of Harrisonville, Mo., is secretary of the organization and is in charge of plans for the meeting.

Grand Larceny Is Tire Theft Charge

Charges of grand larceny were filed by Prosecuting Attorney L. J. Harned Wednesday against Roosevelt Carpenter, 705 West Jefferson, and Quincy Wright, 412 North Mill. Negroes, who were arrested Monday night for stealing a truck tire, inner tube and wheel belonging to E. W. Thompson.

The charges were filed in the court of Justice J. C. Connor. The two youths are being held in the Pettis county jail.

Anxious To Avenge Death Of Brother, G. A. Whiteman

John Casey Whiteman, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Whiteman, Sr., 624 West Twenty-fourth street, seeking vengeance for the death of his older brother, George Allison Whiteman, who was one of the first killed at Pearl Harbor, "hitch-hiked" to Jefferson City last week and made application to enlist in the U. S. Navy. He had previously called at the Sedalia recruiting office, but on one of the days when the office is closed.

Whiteman was accepted after his application had been filled out in perfect order, but when the recruiting officer checked his date of birth given, with his birth certificate, he states he learned the young man is only fifteen years old. The navy may not accept young men, even with their parents' consent until they are seventeen.

It was with regret they explained to John Casey he would have to wait a couple of years.

Three Off To Service

It was announced today, by S. G. Drilling, chief machinist mate navy recruiting office for Sedalia, that three more young men from this area have gone "off to the

More Pressure On Lines Of MacArthur

Flame Throwers Taken In Action Against Invaders

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—(P)—The war department reported today the Japanese were increasing pressure on General Douglas MacArthur's defense lines on the Bataan peninsula in the Philippines, and troop movements indicated a resumption of the enemy offensive.

Several flame throwers, communiques said, were captured along with three pieces of artillery in a relatively minor local action, along with other Japanese equipment.

Japanese batteries on the south shore of Manila bay poured shells on the Corregidor string of fortifications, "without accomplishing a great amount of damage." Fire was concentrated on outlying Fort Frank, southernmost of the fortifications.

The communique, number 114, based on reports received until 9:30 a. m. Eastern War Time, said:

"1. Philippine theater:

"The enemy is increasing his pressure on our lines in Bataan, particularly on the right flank. Heavy artillery fire continues. Japanese troop movements behind the enemy lines indicate a regrouping of forces, preliminary to a resumption of the offensive.

"In a relatively minor local action our troops captured three pieces of enemy artillery, several flame throwers, and a quantity of ordnance and signal supplies.

"Enemy batteries on the Cavite shore continued to pound our harbor defenses, without accomplishing a great amount of damage. The fire on Fort Frank was particularly heavy.

"2. There is nothing to report from other areas."

The captured flame throwers, officials said, were the first reported on the Bataan fighting front. Used effectively in the battle of France, the weapon is employed usually against pill boxes and other fixed fortifications difficult to put out of action by rifle fire.

Talks On Work Of Chaplains

"The Work of Chaplains in the Army and Navy," was the subject of an informative talk by Richard A. Park, Calgary Episcopal church rector, before members of the Sedalia Kiwanis club meeting in Bothwell hotel Thursday noon. He explained in detail the tasks performed by chaplains, their responsibility and importance in the morale phase of the armed forces.

The speaker was introduced by William R. Courtney, program chairman.

In the absence of Mrs. Nellie Monegan, pianist, Rosalee Marshall, played accompaniments during the song numbers led by Burney Morris.

Norris Palmer was a guest of Pinkney Miller, Kiwanians, Grant Davis, of Cabool, Mo., and Rev. B. Locke Davis, of Springfield, were also guests.

Indicted Under Sherman Law

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 19.—(P)—Blanket indictments charging Armour & Co., Swift & Co., four other concerns and six individuals with conspiracy to violate the Sherman anti-trust law in the operation of the St. Joseph, Mo., hog market were returned today by a federal grand jury.

Others named in the indictments returned to Federal Judge Merrill E. Otis are:

The St. Joseph Stock Yards company.

The St. Joseph Livestock Exchange.

The Joint Marketing Improvement Committee.

The Hog Yards Subcommittee of the St. Joseph Joint Marketing Improvement Committee.

Individuals against whom indictments were returned are:

Floyd M. Sherwood, Chicago, head hog buyer for Armour & Company.

Charles S. Lechler, St. Joseph, head hog buyer at St. Joseph, for Armour & Co.

George H. Damsel, Jr., St. Joseph, manager for Armour & Co.

James H. Bliss, Chicago, assistant treasurer of Swift & Co.

Carl J. Meyer, St. Joseph, head hog buyer for Swift & Co.

Walter S. Parker, St. Joseph, general manager of the Swift & Co., slaughter house.

Power For The Main Assault Of Japs Is Reduced

BATAVIA, N. E. I., Feb. 19.—(P)—Aneta news agency said today that foreign troops, including a relatively small number of Americans, have arrived in Java.

Aneta added that American ground troops as well as bombers and fighter pilots, which already have aided in the defense of the Indies, now are seen frequently in the island, heart of the Dutch East Indies, and headquarters of the United Nations supreme command in the southwest Pacific.

The agency quoted authoritative sources as declaring that the foreign troops have received a hearty welcome but that "their numbers are by no means large enough yet."

The agency said Americans often are seen in telephone exchange offices waiting to place calls in their home towns, and that in the past six or seven weeks the exchange of one East Java town has been handling an unprecedented number of trans-Pacific telephone calls.

Cutting Power Of Assault

The battle on the Sumatra approach is delaying and cutting down the power of the inevitable Japanese assault on central island of Java.

Dutch land forces, having abandoned Palembang in southern Sumatra about 270 miles from Batavia itself, are continuing stubborn fighting against the invaders.

Thus the week-end destruction of $500,000,000 worth of oil, gasoline, refining and transport facilities and other property in the Palembang area when Japanese parachutists assaulted it last Saturday was not the signal for abandonment of southern Sumatra, but rather a prelude to re-drawing the battle line for the southernmost tip of the 1,000-mile long island, which is separated only by Sunda Strait from Java itself.

Heavy Toll On Enemy

Today's communique of the Netherlands Indies armed forces said concisely of the Sumatra fighting:

"The action against the enemy which landed at Palembang continues."

The Japanese continued their aerial harassment, and reconnaissance of Java and other parts of the N. E. A., but at a heavy cost.

The communique, released through the news agency Aneta, also reported an enemy air raid

Engineer Is Killed In Wreck

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb. 19.—(P)—A locomotive engineer was killed and a dozen or more persons injured today when two fast New York-Miami trains collided near here.

William G. Guess, Seaboard Airline division trainmaster at Jacksonville, Fla., said the dead man was J. W. Browning of Plant City, Fla., engineer of the north-bound Sunquest.

Guess named five injured trainmen and said several passengers were taken to a West Palm Beach hospital.

Earlier, the New York office of the line said both engineers were killed and a third death was reported from the scene.

Paraski Troops Plan To Bivouac In Open Tonight

By HAROLD F. OSBORNE

ALTA, Utah, Feb. 19.—(P)—America's first paraski troops—tough, laughing daredevils who leaped in parachutes to a snow-buried mountain valley—will bivouac in the open tonight 9,000 feet up in the winter-locked Wasatch mountains.

The "chute jumpers" proved yesterday in a spectacular climax to a unique and elaborate training experiment that Uncle Sam can land a tactical unit from the air regardless of terrain or weather.

Capt. A. F. Gorham of Bellevue, O., today sent most of the lean bronzed men in the unit he commands on an overnight skitrek into the highest recesses of the mountains around this snow resort, counting on the peak-dodging skill of army airmen to drop them sleeping bags in later afternoon.

The captain explained the soldiers would carry rations and small gasoline stoves on their jaunt.

Another group—larger than the five-man unit led by Capt. Gorham which leaped from a transport to a broad valley "somewhere in Utah" yesterday—will try their "chutes" in the thin mountain air, landing in four feet of powdered snow.

The troopers on the first test jumps tumbled from a transport plane just behind an eight-foot bundle of skis and weapons; floated to earth, seized arm and sped away over the deep drifts on their slender runners.

A larger group, landed from a fleet of transports with radios, rations, ammunition and other supplies, could move up the nearest ravine and disappear in the wilderness of enemy country in their white camouflage suits.

Night before last at the valley where the jumps were made the mercury sank to an unofficial but none-the-less chilling 50 degrees below zero—the lowest in many years.

The paraski corps, efficiency and hardiness seems all the more remarkable to those accustomed to the mountain climate because many of the trainees never saw snow before last month.

today on an air field in western Java which caused "some damage."

Simultaneously with yesterday's attack on the United Nations naval base at Soerabaja, in which the Japanese lost five bombers of a force of 24 raiding planes, an airfield in east Java was machine-gunned, the communication said.

Dutch anti-aircraft batteries scored hits on four of the attacking fighter planes "without certainty that they were shot down."

Senate Debate For Repeal On Pension Plan

Amendment Is Offered From Senator Byrd

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—(P)—Senator Byrd (D-Va) told the senate today that there was "a nearly universal demand on the part of the American people" for repeal of legislation permitting congressmen to retire on pensions.

Byrd opened senate debate on the repeal legislation as Rep. Gearhart (R-Calif) told the house that the people had made it "unmistakably clear" to the members of congress that they did not approve of retirement payments to congress.

Gearhart urged speedy repeal action but the house civil service committee, after hearing numerous house members urge it to report speedily one of the measures proposing repeal, gave no indication when it would act.

In the senate Byrd offered an amendment to a pending military pay bill the measure approved by the senate civil service committee last night to repeal the provision of the federal retirement act under which congressmen, the president, vice president, cabinet members and executive department heads could obtain pension annuities.

Senator Downey (D-Calif) then asked that the senate substitute for the Byrd amendment a proposal to authorize the payment of federal pensions of $30 monthly to all qualified persons over 60 years old. Downey's proposal would retain the pensions for congressmen and others.

Recruits Controversy
Downey said that if his proposal was not accepted as a substitute he would then offer it as an amendment.

Recounting the controversy which had arisen over the action of congressmen in voting retirement benefits for themselves, Byrd asserted that the almost universal demand for repeal was merely an example of "democracy at work."

Senator Brown (D-Mich), who voted for the pension bill when it passed the senate January 19, announced he would support the repealer because he believed the controversy over the measure had "contributed to disunity."

Senator Burton (R-Ohio), a co-author of the pension repealer, said that in these days when congress should provide only essential expenditures and cut out the non-essentials, the congress would, by refusing to repeal congressional pensions, say in effect that pensions for congressmen were essential to the nation.

This position, Burton said, could not be supported.

The senate civil service group approved the repealer last night.

Anti-Freeze Is Fatal For Two

HUTCHINSON, Kas., Feb. 19.—(P)—Youthful ignorance of alcoholic beverages was blamed for the death of two young women who drank from a bottle of anti-freeze solution taken to a gay dance hall party by a boy who thought it was wine.

Victims were Mrs. Frances Davis, 19, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Cleopatra Lemen, 18, mother of a small son. Mrs. Davis was wife of Charles Davis, now in the army. Mrs. Lemen was Davis' sister.

Twelve others who sipped from the fatal bottle suffered burned lips and illness in varying degrees. One, Gerald Swisher, 19, Gypsum, was taken to a hospital for treatment.

City Detective Wiley Sloan said a 16-year-old youth who attended the Monday night NYA dance party told of bringing the bottle which he had found in a shed near the home of a man from whom whisky had been purchased. The boy told Sloan he thought it contained wine.

Police promptly raided the home of the man who told them he kept the bottle in his garage to add to the radiator of his automobile. He was not arrested.

K. Of C. To Confer Degrees

Major degrees of the Knights of Columbus will be exemplified in Sedalia, in the Woodman-Macabee hall, 412½ South Ohio avenue, beginning at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

At 6:30 o'clock that evening there will be a banquet, honoring the new members, at St. Patrick's school hall, served by the women of the church. A program of entertainment is being arranged, the principal speaker to be Fred Vogel, Jefferson City, past district deputy, who has been active in Knights of Columbus work throughout the state.

Among the guests will be many priests of central Missouri, state deputy and many state officers.

The first degree will be conferred in the Knights of Columbus hall Thursday evening and again for those from out of town at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, after the 8 o'clock mass at Sacred Heart church, at which the local members will receive communion in a body.

Arthur W. Klang is the Grand Knight of the Sedalia Council.

Other Changes Made By OCD

Several Jobs Held By Former Mayors Are Abolished

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—(P)—The process of changing the much criticized office of civilian defense for "efficiency action" was under way in earnest today as the jobs of four former mayors followed that of blonde Maryis Chaney, dancer friend of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, into the discard.

Having already accepted Miss Chaney's resignation as director of children's activities, Director James M. Landis followed up last night by revising two whole divisions which he said were of "no further value."

It is "urgently necessary" that OCD be streamlined for maximum efficiency, Landis said, disclosing that he had taken these steps: Abolished effective March 1 the office of inspectors general, headed by former Mayor T. Semmes Walmesley of New Orleans at $22,222 per diem.

Abolished effective March 1, the "know your government" division, formed for educational and morale activities and headed by S. Howard Evans, formerly of the budget bureau, at $8,000 a year.

Abolished the associate directorship of the division of state and local cooperation, held by Daniel W. Hoan, former Socialist mayor of Milwaukee.

Two Made Consultants

Out of their jobs as regional inspectors general under Walmesley go Bernard F. Dickmann, former mayor of St. Louis, Joseph D. Scholtz, former mayor of Louisville, and Murray Sand, New York, who received $6,500 a year apiece, and James Metzbaum, Ohio state senator from Cleveland, who served without compensation.

Landis said Dickmann and Walmesley would become consultants receiving $22,222 a day whenever they worked. Scholtz, who also was acting regional director of the seventh OCD region with headquarters at Omaha, will keep that job. No new assignments were announced for Hoan, Sand, Metzbaum or Evans.

The changes, Landis said, meant that 13 consultants and other employees would be eliminated or transferred to other positions and that 27 clerks in the correspondence section would be transferred to the administrative section.

Panama Tanker Is Torpedoed

WILLEMSTAD, Curacao, Feb. 19.—(P)—A Panama-registered tanker was torpedoed off the Dutch Island of Aruba today in a renewed outburst of German submarine activity deep in the Caribbean sea, Aneta news agency announced.

The attack was said to have occurred this morning.

Aneta reported that earlier in the morning "some projectiles had landed in the neighborhood of the Standard Oil refinery on Aruba" which was shelled with little effect by a German submarine early Monday.

Aneta added that authoritative sources said, however, that "it is not excluded that these were stray projectiles not fired by the enemy."

The nature of the projectiles could not be ascertained immediately, Aneta said.

Two Killed In An Explosion

LAPORTE, Ind., Feb. 19.—(P)—An explosion at the nearby Kingsbury Ordnance plant this afternoon killed two employees and injured three others.

The explosion, which occurred shortly after noon, killed the workers on a shell loading line. Plant officials said casualties were kept at a minimum because of the careful spacing of concrete and steel buildings housing working departments.

The dead and injured were not immediately identified.

Speech Clinic Be Held At The Court House

Might Broaden Income Base

No Intention By Treasury To Urge A Payroll Tax

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—(P)—Treasury Secretary Morgenthau said today "there are still some important points yet to be settled in the administration's effort to get $9,000,000,000 of new taxes, including $2,000,000,000 in increased social security levies."

Describing conferences underway for several weeks between experts of the treasury and congressional committees, the secretary told reporters about "60 subjects" had been taken up and agreements reached on most of them.

While Morgenthau declined to go into further detail, it was understood that the unsettled points were such vital issues as whether there should be a sales tax, or a payroll tax, or what method should be used to tax excessive corporate profits, and some important phases of individual income taxes.

Morgenthau also indicated that the experts soon would reach a point where no more differences of opinion could be reconciled and congressional committees would have to start public hearings at which both the agreements and disagreements would be aired. This might take weeks, he added.

Senator George (D-Ga) predicted congress would be forced to broaden the base of income taxes or impose a sales or payroll levy if it hoped to get the seven billion dollars additional sought.

George said that while the 15 per cent which thus would be withheld from salaries would accumulate a total at the end of the year larger than now paid by the average individual in the lower brackets, it should be about equal to the amount due under proposed increased income tax levies.

The Georgia senator said such a plan would put a brake on inflationary spending and make it easier for the individual to meet his income tax bill.

George, chairman of the senate finance committee, already has announced his opposition to low-earning present individual income exemption of $750 for single persons and $1,500 for married persons.

He said that so far as he knew the treasury remained firmly opposed to a sales levy and had no intention of recommending a payroll tax. President Roosevelt called for a $7,000,000,000 general revenue increase in his budget message last month.

George said there had been some discussion of attempting to collect income taxes on a month-to-month basis through a 15 per cent withholding levy on payrolls. By this system, he said, the government would take 15 per cent of salaries each month, the total being applied against the amount due on the regular income tax at the end of the year.

Extra Revenue Necessary

To obtain the extra revenue requested by President Roosevelt, treasury experts were understood to have charted a $3,000,000,000 increase in corporation levies and a boost ranging from $1,500,000,000 to $2,000,000,000 in individual income taxes. The remaining $2,000,000,000 would be obtained by plugging loopholes in the present law and by increasing and broadening excise levies.

Discussion of a withholding levy to be imposed in addition to the regular income tax has been widespread in congress and Senator Taft (R-Ohio), another finance committee member, said he was of the opinion that it might be necessary to impose a 1 per cent tax of this nature on incomes from dividends and interest, as well as salaries.

While President Roosevelt's suggestion for an additional $2,000,000,000 in social security levies—over and above the $7,000,000,000 general tax boost—has been laid aside temporarily, George said that opposition already was beginning to develop to any increase in these taxes. He estimated that old age payment levies of 1 per cent on employers and an equal amount on employees would have to be tripled to bring in that amount.

Stocks Shake Off Some Of Gloom

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—(AP)—The stock market today shook off a little of its war gloom and selected steels, motors, rails and specialties took on a modest recovery appearance.

The list was narrowly irregular at the start. Bidders came in around midday and favorites registered advances of fractions to a point or so at the best. Many issues lingered in minus territory an improvement was shaded in the majority of cases at the close.

Dealings on the whole, were about as sluggish as in the Wednesday session, transfers approximating 350,000 shares.

Among stocks on the upside most of the day were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Great Northern, Union Pacific, American Telephone, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Glenn Martin, Boeing, Westinghouse, Johns-Manville and General Electric.

Down Chemical and Du Pont recorded new lows for the move before stiffening. Backward at times were Standard Oil (N.J.), Texas Co., American Can, Union Carbide, Eastman Kodak, Philip Morris, Doubles Aircraft, Goodyear, Phelps Dodge, J. I. Case and International Harvester.

Society And Clubs

Plans for spring activities were made by members of the Eat and Run club at their regular meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Harriet Bertman, 711 West Fifth street. Mrs. Abe Bertman assisted in entertaining.

Miss Bertha Mae Hayes, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick J. Hayes, of Richmond, became the bride of Marion Lee Johnson, son of Mrs. Mary Johnson, of Gray's Summit, and of the late James Lee Johnson, who passed away in LaMonte.

The marriage took place at 9 o'clock Saturday morning, February 14, at St. Stephen's church, in Richmond, the pastor, Rev. Father John S. Lyons officiating, using the ring ceremony.

Their attendants were Mrs. Winifred N. Miller, sister of the bride and Mr. Miller.

The bride was dressed in teal blue, with brown hat and matching accessories. Mrs. Miller wore rose color, with brown accessories. The bridegroom was wearing ten miles west of Sedalia, and graduated from the Green Ridge high school in the class of 1937, and then attended Central Business college in Sedalia for two years.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will make their home at Gray's Summit, where Mr. Johnson has a position as bookkeeper for the Purina Experimental Farm, where he has been for more than two years.

Following the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Winifred Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Swope have received announcement of the marriage of their son, Sergeant Wilford Swope, of Santa Rosa, Calif., to Miss Yvonne Duley, also of Santa Rosa, on Saturday, February 7.

The following account of the wedding was taken from the Santa Rosa Times:

"As the clock chimed seven on Saturday evening Sergeant W. F. Swope, of the Seventh Medical Corps, U. S. A. claimed Miss Yvonne Duley as his bride, in a military ceremony. The simple rites took place at the bride's home, 1265 Ripley street, before an improvised altar which was beautifully decorated with acacia blooms, smilax, daffodils and white tapers. Chaplain Jason T. Herbert, U. S. A. stationed in Santa Rosa officiated.

"The bride, daughter of Mrs. Edna Carmichael, of this city, wore an exquisite brown suit with brown accessories and her only attendant, Miss Marjorie Cooke, was dressed in gold and brown. Sergeant Clifford Stephens, also of the Seventh Medical Corps, acted as best man. Private, First Class, Martin Hildebrandt seated the guests.

"Refreshments were served to the relatives and friends present."

GOLLY, DISHES FAIRLY WASH THEMSELVES IN RINSO'S LIVELY SUDS, THE GREASE MELTS AWAY SO QUICKLY, AND THERE'S NO CLOUD OF SNEEZY SOAP-DUST FLYING AROUND!

DARLING, I'M THROUGH WITH THE DISHES ALREADY. WASN'T THAT FAST? AND YOU SHOULD SEE HOW THEY SPARKLE!

THAT NEW RINSO YOU'RE USING IS A HONEY. MUST BE REAL GENTLE, TOO... CAUSE YOUR HANDS FEEL SMOOTH AS SILK!

These grease-cutting suds make glasses, silver shine

"Rinso makes even hard water feel soft and velvety through and through. But there's nothing wispy-washy about Rinso suds. They're real husky, have plenty of spunk. Even crusted-on food bits come off mighty quick when Rinso gets to work. And my, how it makes silver shine!"

"You can't top New 'Anti-Sneeze' Rinso for the weekly wash. In tub or washer, it gets clothes shades whiter than many old-type soaps. And Rinso is 98% free of sneezy soap-dust; it stops pesky sneezing spells, too. Smart women get TWO boxes: one for the wash, one for dishes."

Merry-Go-Round

• by Drew Pearson and Robert S. Allen

WASHINGTON — With Japan extending long lines of communications down to the Dutch East Indies, it has become more and more evident that the only way the United States is going to win the battle of the Pacific is (1) by cutting off Japan's supply lines via China; (2) by striking direct blows at the main islands of Japan.

Regarding the first of these, it is already planned to bolster the Chinese army in order to disrupt Japanese operations. With the Burma Road closed, however, this would be a long, tedious job of shipping and flying half way round the world.

Second step, bombing the paper and bamboo cities of Tokyo, Kobe and Osaka is more practicable. So far, the Russians have held out against using Siberia as a bombing base, for the reason that Vladivostok is squeezed between the Japanese army on two sides—and a lot of Russian soldiers from the Siberian army have been sent to the Moscow front.

Meanwhile, Alaska, whose Aleutian islands jut out to within a few miles from Asia, obviously are the best air stepping stones to Japan.

However, almost unbelievable obstacles have been thrown in the path of developing Alaska. For instance, one thing which Secretary Ickes has wanted for two years is to build a highway from Seattle to Alaska. At present there is no way of reaching Alaska except by boat, which is precarious in wartime, or by airplane.

So the Interior Department got the State Department to write both the Canadian government and the U. S. War Department about building the road. The Canadians didn't en- thusiase, but they didn't say no. The War De- partment's position, however, was amazing.

Assistant Secretary of State Berle wrote Secretary of War Stimson a very tactful letter in which he assumed that the War Department wanted the road built, and therefore, he in- quired which of several routes Secretary Stim- son considered to be of greatest strategic value.

To the amazement of everyone, Secretary Stimson wrote back that the War Department didn't consider any of the proposed routes of military value and didn't want a road built to Alaska.

This letter, believe it or not, was written in May, 1941, less than a year ago.

Today, however, the situation is reversed. The War Department is actually clamoring for a road to Alaska. It can't be built fast enough. However, the Canadian government, while not vetoing the plan, still is not enthusiastic. Its position is that the United States can build it if it pays for it, and if Canada maintains all rights to it (since it is Canadian soil) after the war is over.

Good Gaven

Comedians Ole Olsen and Billy House of "Hellzapoppin" were the luncheon guests of several senators the other day, including Demo- cratic leader Alben Barkley of Kentucky, Tom Stewart of Tennessee, Mon Wallgren of Wash- ington and Harley M. Kilgore of West Virginia.

During the luncheon, senators vied with the comedians for laughs—Barkley with his best Negro stories; Wallgren, with his famous Scandinavian stories; and Stewart with his Tennessee mountaineer yarns.

Comedians Olsen and House had a great laugh, but the press agent seemed mystified. Finally, he leaned over to Senator Kilgore and asked:

"Say, these fellows I work for are pro- fessional comedians. It's their business to make people laugh. But you senators have them skinned a mile. Do you mind letting me in on a secret—who writes your gags?"

George Sylvester Viereck

Significant fact about the trial of George Sylvester Viereck, charged with being an illegal Nazi agent, is that his defense counsel is Daniel Cohan, son of retired New York Supreme Court Justice Daniel Cohan.

About ex-Judge Cohan, Viereck wrote a very interesting passage in his book "Spreading Germs of Hate" in which he described his propaganda activities for the Kaiser in the last war.

"Throughout the war," wrote Viereck, "the Clan-na-Gael, a powerful secret Irish organi- zation kept step with the German-Americans. Professor Kino Meyer, the great German author- ity on the Gaelic language, harangued Irish meetings, while Judge Daniel Cohan inflamed German audiences with his eloquence."

Today ex-Judge Cohan draws $15,000 from New York State as a court referee, while his son has defended various Nazis prosecuted by the Justice Department—officials of the Trans-Ocean news service, and Viereck.

Synthetic Rubber Probe

The Justice Department is now conduct- ing a probe of certain far-reaching patent ar- rangements between the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and the giant I. G. Farbenindus- trie cartel of Germany by which Hitler built up his synthetic rubber industry while we didn't.

The arrangement between the two com- panies was made in 1930. Standard Oil was given the right to use patents for synthetic gasoline throughout the world, while I. G. Far- benindustrie got the right to use certain patents for synthetic rubber throughout the world.

For several years, Hitler has been using the German synthetic rubber industry to equip his entire war machine, while the United States got off to a limping start toward synthetic rubber only a few months ago.

These synthetic patents were held by a company called Jasco, owned 50 percent by Standard Oil and 50 percent by I. G. Farben. However, when Standard tried to learn more about the German industry from its partner in 1937, Hitler is understood to have objected.

During all this period, meanwhile, Hitler was building up his war machine; threatening Czechoslovakia and seizing Austria—yet U. S. industry did little about synthetic rubber.

NOTE: Don't get fooled by an optimistic ideas that there may NOT be a rubber shortage after all. Unfortunately, this is not going to be like the gasoline "shortage" of last summer. There are going to be very few tires until the war is over—whenever that may be.

(Copyright, 1942, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

So Little Is Asked Of Us

For nearly 10 years the German people have lived on a closely rationed and curtailed diet. They have lived without automobiles (on any- thing comparable to the scale on which they are used here). They have been forced to scrimp and save and sacrifice.

Why? In order that the great military ma- chine might be built which is now overrunning civilized Europe.

For more than 10 years the Japanese people, whose living standard has always been pitia- bly poor, have lived on bare subsistence, cutting deeper and deeper each year into a scale of living beside which that of an American family on relief is regal.

Why? To build the ships and planes that struck at Pearl Harbor. To build the ships and planes and equip the men who now run amok in Malaya, the Dutch Indies, and the Philippines.

For nearly 20 years the Italian people have been ground beneath a tyranny which has con- stantly taken more and more from the daily living of a people already by American stand- ards desperately poor.

Why? To build the planes that bombed the Ethiopian natives, the tanks that rolled across Lybia, the ships that bedevil the Mediterranean.

Now the world faces the result of all that sacrifice and denial, faces the weapons forged from the people's daily bread. We are in dead- end conflict with all that, as it is now plain we must sooner or later have been anyway.

Now we can't get new cars and tires. It may be a little difficult to get all the sugar one wants. Sometimes pay lags somewhat behind a rising cost of living. Profits aren't what they were. Everybody is asked to work harder and longer. It may not be easy to get gasoline for "Sunday driving." We are asked to lend (not give) our savings; pay higher taxes.

Yet one hears occasional grumbling and complaining. Not from the two million men already called to arms; not from the two or three million men to follow; generally speaking they are ready to do what is necessary to be done.

Complaints come usually from those least hurt, and the violence of the complaint is usually in inverse proportion to the amount of sacrifice.

In Greece, the children starve in the streets. In France, a proud people has been made to ask for scraps. In Norway and Czechoslovakia, free and upstanding folk cope daily and un- armed against a greedy invader in their midst. In Poland and Yugoslavia, people are hunted down like animals. In Britain, peaceable folk have seen their homes tumble about their ears while the bombs took horrible toll.

It is to avert these things that we are asked to sacrifice. In comparison with them, so little has been asked thus far!

We are not going back to anything. We are going forward. We could not stop the march of progress if we wanted to, but we can do something about the direction of the changes.—Charles W. Eliot, National Resources Planning Board.

Looking Backward

forty years ago.

The Democratic city committee met last night at the office of R. A. Higdon and res- cinded the action of the committee at its re- cent meeting in naming candidates on the pro- posed citizens' ticket. The Republican city committee also met last night and agreed to a plan of action similar to that agreed upon by the Democrats.

Capt. T. C. Holland of Sedalia was elected grand foreman of the A.O.U.W. at the state meeting of the organization held in St. Louis yesterday. The grand lodge adjourned last night to meet again in St. Louis in 1904.

The quarantine on the German Evangelical church and parsonage has been lifted.

The annual Junior-Senior contest between the two upper classes of the high school will take place in the high school auditorium Friday.

Capt. R. L. Netherton will entertain the high school cadets and their friends Tuesday evening at the school auditorium. He will ex- hibit stereopticon pictures of the Philippine islands

FAT GO FAST
While You Add
Strength, Energy,
Feel Fine
Here's good news for fat folks. If you've wanted to reduce, here's the way to go on a strenuous starvation diet—you will love this way of getting rid of fat. Reduce your weight fat (not due to any glandular dysfunction). The big trouble with most reducing methods is that fat people have a craving for food and have to give it up. Naturally too, they have strenuous exercises—makes you want to leave you weak, rundown and poor to sickness and disease.
VITEEN, the new easy reducing method, is quick, safe and one that your doctor will approve of. That's because VITEEN is a rich, nourishing food which helps build up your strength and health. It contains Vitamins A, B, C, D and E, as well as calcium, phosphorus and strength building proteins. It satisfies your appetite, makes you want to eat LESS fat-making food while at the same time it tends to force your body to USE UP its own fat.

MAKE THIS TEST
Use VITEEN as directed for one week. See how now much better you feel, how much better you look and sleep. And best of all, at the end of the week, weigh yourself and see how pounds are beginning to slip away—how you are at last on the road to losing that clumsy, ugly fat.
Try VITEEN today. Fine result or money back.

The Finest Tomatoes

Bashed to maturity from selected green-house seedlings, every tomato that goes into Brooks Catsup must show its pedigree. But only the smoothest, creamiest tomato meat is used. That's why Brooks Catsup seems so fresh and never separates.

Brooks OLD ORIGINAL CATSUP
Brooks Chili Hot Brown Beans and Brooks Chili Hot Spaghetti make fine Chili Mac.

Highlighting Lenten Menus.

During early spring when eggs are plentiful and within reach even of wartime purses, serve Fluffy Eggs on enriched toast. Arrange a mound of stiffly beaten egg whites seasoned with a few grains of salt on slices of enriched toast. Drop a whole yolk into the center of each mound, dot with butter or margarine and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Place under a broiler or into a moderate oven just long enough to brown the whites lightly and cook the yolks.

On fish days during Lent, serve a delectable Salmon Roll. To make it, roll out a recipe of biscuit dough to a rectangle about 1/2 inch thick. Spread with a mixture of salmon, sharp grated cheese, chopped onion, milk. Season to suit the taste. Roll up jelly roll fashion and bake to an oven-toast brown in a hot oven (400 degrees F.), about 45 minutes. Other fish, such as tuna, may be substituted for the salmon with equally tasteful results. Tomato sauce is good over this economy special.

While 8-months hold out, Oyster Fricassee will hit the spot for delicious food. Drain fresh oysters and spread in the bottom of a greased casserole. Make a medium white sauce from 1 cup milk, 2 tablespoons each of flour and shortening, and 1 teaspoon each of finely chopped onion and parsley. Pour over oysters and top off with 2 cups of bread cubes sauteed in a bit of shortening. Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees F.) for about 15 minutes and remove when golden brown. Garnish with parsley. Equal parts of grated raw carrots and chopped cabbage make an excellent salad to accompany fricassee oysters.

SAFEWAY

I'VE FOUND A WAY TO MAKE LENTEN FOOD SHOPPING EASY!

I used to fret over my Lenten shopping but now I've discovered an easy way... a leisurely stroll through my neighborhood Safeway. Hundreds of nutritious foods are displayed so beautifully I think of one tempting dish after another with every step. Some of my favorite foods are scarce but there are so many others to choose from. Treat yourself to this easy way to shop for Lent.

Best for Juice and Every use!

—means best for lunch boxes, too!

These oranges were "made" for lunch boxes—and between-meals or bedtime eating!

They are seedless—as only Navel oranges are. They peel in a jiffy and separate cleanly into wonderfully firm and juicy sections!

They have the rich California juice also—with more vitamins C and A, and calcium in every glass. Plus vitamins B₁ and G for good measure!

For eating, for juice, for every use—be sure to get California Navel Oranges. Those stamped "Sunkist" on the skin are the finest from 14,500 cooperating growers.

How to make Pillsbury's Savorly Salmon Casserole

Complete recipe:

1. Pan-fry 1 c. chopped celery, 1/4 c. chopped green pepper, 1/4 c. chopped onion, 1 c. sliced canned mushrooms in 2 Tbsp. butter until tender. 2. Add 2 c. (1 lb. can) flaked salmon, 1/4 c. canned whole-kernel corn, well drained. 3. Combine 1/4 c. butter and 5 Tbsp. Pillsbury's Best Flour in saucepan over direct heat. Add 2 1/2 c. milk gradually, stirring until thickened. (Note the smooth, creamy goodness of this white sauce!) 4. Add salmon mixture, blend well. 5. Turn into 2-qt. casserole. TOP WITH FLAKY FINGER ROLLS: RECIPE—1. Sift and measure 1 c. Pillsbury's Best Flour. Add 1 1/2 tsp. baking powder (or 1 tsp. double-acting) and 1/4 tsp. salt; sift again. (Pillsbury's Best is enriched with two B-vitamins and iron with no change in appearance, flavor, or baking quality.) 2. Cut in 2 Tbsp. shortening until quite fine. Add 6 Tbsp. milk (about); mix until all flour is dampened. 3. Knead lightly on a floured board a few seconds. 4. Divide in 6 equal pieces; shape each into a finger roll. (Notice how tender your dough is, how easy-to-handle, when made with Pillsbury's Best! This superb flour is made to protect your baking—right baking tests are made 4 to 6 times a day during milling!) 5. Place finger rolls in cartwheel formation over hot mixture. 6. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) 25 to 30 min. When the family takes the first bite of that tender, flaky topping, you'll know why we say—Pillsbury's Best is your best choice every time you bake!

FARRIS' FANCY RYERS
BAKERS and DUMPLING HENS

A wife is a great comfort to her husband during the distressing times a bachelor never has. Advance tip—the first thing to take out of the house when starting spring cleaning is all the men.

You never served a tastier dessert than apricot betty a la Karo

a portion

APRICOT BETTY

1 (No. 2½) can apricot halves, drained
5 tablespoons butter
2½ cups small bread cubes
½ cup KARO (blue label)
½ teaspoon cinnamon
Dash salt
¼ teaspoon corn starch
1 egg white
4 tablespoons KARO (red label)

Set aside 12 apricot halves for topping. Melt 3 tablespoons butter, and mix with bread cubes. Toss with fork. Stir in KARO (blue label) and cinnamon. Arrange alternate layers of bread mixture and remaining apricots in greased individual baking dishes. Dot with remaining butter. Place 2 apricot halves on top of each, keeping cut side up. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 20 to 30 minutes.

Add salt and corn starch to egg white, and whip until it begins to hold shape. Add KARO (red label), 1 tablespoon at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition. Drop half teaspoonfuls around edge of baking dish, and in center of each apricot half. Return to oven, and bake 10 minutes or until meringues are browned. Makes 6 servings. Serve hot!

New Blue Book Lists Salaries

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 19—(AP)—The new Missouri blue book came off the press today, predestined to become a best seller around the capitol — for the first time it lists all state salaries.
The 1941 state legislature passed an act requiring that the Blue Book, Missouri's official manual, show the payroll for every state department and the size of the pay check of each individual. In the past, many bureaus have listed their employees without indicating salaries.

Secretary of State Dwight H. Brown dedicated the new edition to the late W. B. Meng, who was fatally injured in an automobile accident last year. Meng, a veteran Missouri newspaper man, edited four editions of the book, which appears every two years.
Because of increased size made necessary by the payroll figures, 5,000 fewer books were printed this year than heretofore.
Howard Durham Officer In Ceramic Society
Howard Durham, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Durham, of Sedalia, was recently elected vice-president of the American Ceramic Society at the Missouri School of Mines, Rolla, Mo.
Durham is a senior in ceramic engineering at the School of Mines, and is a member of the Engineer's Club.

Milk Production Of DHIA Cows Goes Up In January

Good Feeding And Management Given Credit; Total Pounds, 283,439

Through good feeding and management practices members of the Pettis County Dairy Herd Improvement Association increased the milk production per cow on an average of 129 pounds in January over December. The 414 cows on test produced a total of 283,439 pounds of milk and 9877 pounds of butterfat. This was an average of 684 pounds of milk and 24 pounds of butterfat per cow.

Twelve of the cows in the association produced over 50 pounds of butterfat and 34 cows produced over 40 pounds of fat. Thirty-three cows produced more than 1,000 pounds of milk.

The high producing cow in the association during January was a Holstein owned by Dow Bros., that produced 1,891 pounds of milk and 68.1 pounds of fat. The 20 Holsteins owned by Petty and Turner were the highest producing herd averaging 940 pounds of milk and 32.98 pounds of butterfat.

The Five Highest Producing Herds Were:
Owner	Breed	No. Cows	Av. Milk
Petty & Turner	Holstein	20	940
Dow Bros.	Hol. & Jersey	18	717
Gouge & Freund	Jersey & Guernsey	16	619

The total production of dairy products depends on the number of cows milked and the production per cow—which is influenced by the relative prices of dairy products and feed, and the abundance of pasture. Good pasture is one of the best and most economical dairy feeds during the grazing season.

Now is the time to plan ahead for an abundance of good pasture for the summer of 1942. Such combinations as small grain and clover or small grain and sweet clover have given an abundance of pasture when most needed.

Dress Forms In Various Steps

To interest the women in the Longwood Home Economics Extension club in making dress forms, Miss Elizabeth Scott of that community has a novel idea.

After attending the leader training meeting held Thursday, February 12, at Maplewood Grange, she made a dress form for a doll to use to illustrate how the forms are made. She not only has completed the form but plans to make forms in various degrees of completeness to take to her next club meeting to show how it is done.

These dress forms can be made in about an hour and are made by applying paper tape to a knitted form modeled by the individual. After the desired amount of tape is applied the form is cut up the center front and back and removed, then put back together with the tape. After it is dried it is shellacked inside and out to make it more durable, and then placed on a stand ready to use.

Here's the New Amazing Cough Mixture From Canada

Druggists Report Big Demand Compounded from rare Canadian Pine Balsam, Menthol, Glycerine, Irish Moss and other soothing ingredients, Buckley's CANADIOL Mixture is different—more effective—faster in action than anything you've ever used? Get a bottle today. Take one teaspoonful let it lie on your tongue a moment then swallow slowly instantly you feel its powerful effective action spread thru throat, head and bronchial tubes. Tickling, coughing ceases—phlegm loosened and raised—clogged bronchial tubes open up, air passages cleared. One or two sips at bedtime will help you to a sounder night's sleep. You'll find Buckley's—the real standby for coughs and colds in over 70% of Canadian homes—an amazing cough mixture.

Insect Pests Often Destroy House Plants

Insect pests often attack and destroy house plants or retard their growth, cautions Miss Julia M. Rocheford of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture. The most common of these are plant lice, mealy bugs, and scale. Spraying with nicotine sulphate will control the lice and bugs, while a lime-sulphate spray will check the scale.

Limestone, Phosphates Can Be Mixed

Have Been Drilled Together Safely And Effectively

Economics in the application of limestone and phosphates by drilling them together can safely be effected according to recent chemical studies, announces W. A.

Miss Scott did all these steps on the doll form so it is a complete model to show her club. Persons just learning to sew as well as experienced seamstresses find these forms a help as it enables the individual to make clothes which fit well and thus wear longer.

Albrecht of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture. The economy of such a usage is particularly true for the triple phosphates, since the amounts of this fertilizer applied are small for efficient distribution by most fertilizer drills. Phosphates can be mixed with two or more times as much limestone and the mixture drilled to distribute the phosphate more uniformly. Limestone can be applied for greater efficiency at the same time.

For many years it was considered impossible for phosphate fertilizers to be beneficial to plants unless the phosphates were in water-soluble form when applied. Laboratory tests showed that, mixed with limestone, the soluble phosphates became insoluble. When tested in the soil, however, these insoluble forms are still of service to the plants. In fact, any soluble phosphates put into the soil becomes insoluble in water in a very short time if applied with no accompanying limestone.

It is now known that the "reversion of phosphate," or change from soluble to insoluble forms because of limestone presence does not always mean that the phosphate has lost its service to the plant as a fertilizer. It has recently been shown that substances other than limestone are responsible for making phosphates truly unusable by the plants. Limestone, either as the ordinary calcium stone or as dolomite, does not put the phosphate out of use for the plants. In fact, experiments are showing the very opposite—that applying limestone to the soil may help the plants to get more phosphorus.

If the application of the phosphate is made this spring for a legume seeding on fall-seeded small grain it becomes a soil-conserving practice, when the application last fall would not have meant eligibility for payments under that category. The drilling of the phosphate with the limestone will mean more uniform distribution and more efficient fertilizer effects by both these nutrient additions to the soil.

Four Bases Governing Farm Products Price Ceilings

The four different bases which govern the setting of ceilings on 21 important farm products under the recently approved Price Control Act are set forth in the following table compiled by Herman Haag of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture.

For each of these commodities, the price administrator cannot set a ceiling below the highest of the four prices of that commodity given in the table (the fourth column only being subject to revision from month to month). The highest price, which would be the lowest possible ceiling for each product, has been set in boldface type in the table.

Three of the four sets of prices shown above will remain the same from month to month but the fourth, 110 per cent of parity, will change as farm costs change. A parity price for a farm product is one which will make it possible for that product to pay for as much farm and home supplies, interest and taxes as it did in the 1909-1914 period. Thus as costs of farm and home supplies, interest and taxes advance, parity prices will raise and the prices in the fourth column, 110 per cent of parity, will increase.

Prices paid by farmers, together with their interest and taxes, probably will continue to rise, so that the parity price column may be the highest one for most commodities by the end of 1942. If farm costs rise as much as 15 per cent, 110 per cent of parity prices will be the basis for price ceilings for 18 of the 21 products listed above. On January 15, prices of only five products were at or above their lowest possible ceilings. These were beef cattle, veal calves, wholesale milk and wool. Price changes since January 15, however, have changed this situation greatly.

Looking Back

At one time, the British Isles were connected to the continent of Europe. The North Sea did not exist, but there was a great river that flowed north and met the sea between the shores of Scotland and Norway.

State Civil Service

Nine states of the Union have civil service: California, Colorado, Illinois, Maryland, Massachusetts, New Jersey, New York, Ohio and Wisconsin.

Argentine Wool

The United States imported more than 181,000,000 pounds of the 219,000,000 pounds of wool exported by Argentina between Oct. 1, 1940 and March 31, 1941.

Not Meeting Proper Diet Requirements

Survey Shows Some Rural Families Not Using Enough Fruit

According to the food survey conducted in Pettis county, rural people are not in many cases meeting the food requirements set up as a basis for good family diet. In a summarization of the fruit part of the food survey of the county it shows that families serve fruit eleven times per week which is only one half as often as it should be served; and that they can 87 quarts of fruit per family. Since the average Pettis county rural family is made up of 3.7 persons that means only about 24 quarts per person, which is 50 per cent of the suggested amount.

It is also recommended that the family grow six kinds of fruit. The survey sheet shows that of eight fruits listed:

53 per cent of the families have grapes; 47, blackberries; 35, gooseberries; 34, peaches; 32, pears; 28, early apples; 27, strawberries; 14, raspberries.

This indicates that few families have the suggested number of fruits.

During the last part of February and first part of March meetings on fruits and vegetables will be held throughout the county in which there will be discussion of varieties and production as well as food value of fruits and vegetables and demonstrations of the preparation of fruits and vegetables.

Like Results Of Legume, Grass Silage

Seven Pettis County Farmers Say Cost Is Low

Seven Pettis county dairy farmers are using grass and legume silage this winter and report excellent results in milk and butterfat production.

Henry Alt and J. A. DeJarnette are feeding sweet clover silage for the second year and DeJarnette says, "I think it is better than corn silage myself." C. G. Ficken is feeding sweet clover silage for the first time and filled an 85-ton silo from eleven acres of second year sweet clover. He plans on building another silo this year.

R. W. Welliver is using oats for silage and says he never had better feed. Eugene Helman is feeding a mixture of second year sweet clover and oats, which is also of good quality. Petty and Turner are using red clover silage and Olen Monsees has been using barley and oat silage. The quality of feed is good in all cases.

Comparative Cost Low

These farmers say the cost is very low compared to silage made from corn or sorgho. They figure it will not cost more than one dollar per ton and the feed is worth four to five dollars per ton as a feed for milk production.

The yields of grass silage compare favorably with those of corn silage. Sweet clover will yield from eight to ten tons per acre depending on the thickness of stand and height of the plant. The yields of oat silage will run as high as six tons per acre. Corn will yield around six to eight tons per acre.

The stage of development which these farmers have found to be most satisfactory for ensiling is as follows: For oats between the milk and dough stage, for sweet clover—just before bloom or at least, early bloom while the plant is still tender.

Advantages Gained

The advantages to be gained by the practice of ensiling grasses and legumes are:

Grass silage can be made during periods of unfavorable weather for curing hay.

A greater proportion of nutrients are conserved than in dry hay. More of the natural green coloring matter, or carotene, is preserved. Studies have shown that the greener the feed the higher the Vitamin A content. Milk produced from low colored feeds has been found to contain only 200 international units of A per quart as compared to 4200 international units per quart for milk produced from highly colored green feeds.

The system furnishes early silage for the dry part of the summer which will maintain the fall and winter milk flow at a higher level. It is good drought insurance.

It is the best way to handle weedy or damaged hay.

The storage cost is reduced. A cubic foot of grass silage weighs eight to nine times as much as a cubic foot of hay and contains three times the food value.

Grass silage fits well into a conservation system of farming.

Missouri USDA War Board Question Box

Q. How does the lack of food affect the British people, particularly the workmen?

A. Ernest Bovin, British labor leader, has said that British workmen could increase their output 15-20 per cent if they had more animal protein foods. Better diets—that is, more of the right kind of foods—would improve considerably the strength and efficiency of the British people.

Q. Will it be necessary for the domestic consumption of dairy products to be decreased in order for the government to get enough for shipment to the British?

A. No. The amount of dairy products requested by the British in 1942 will be the equivalent of 5 billion pounds of milk, compared with the increase of more than 8 billion pounds called for by the 1942 goal. The total available for domestic consumption in 1942 is expected to be about 120 billion pounds compared with the total of about 116 billion pounds for 1941.

Q. Can we produce all the foods needed for Britain, and still have as much of them for ourselves as last year?

A. We can have more than we had last year. Increased supplies for home consumption are provided in the expanded production program.

Q. Why does Great Britain ask us for dairy products when we never did export any before the war?

A. Before the war Great Britain depended mainly upon the low countries in Europe for her imports of dairy products, but this source of supply has now been cut off by the Nazi invasion. Because of the shipping situation, Great Britain must now rely mainly on the United States for dairy products. We alone are able to produce enough of the right kinds of products and assure their delivery to the British people.

Q. Won't the increased milk production being asked for flood the markets and force the price of milk down?

A. On the contrary, it will be difficult for farmers to produce as much milk as will be needed to meet the greatly enlarged demand for dairy products in this country, together with shipments to Great Britain. The real problem is sufficient output.

Q. Is the increase needed in milk production the same in all parts of the country?

A. The greatest demand for dairy products is for cheese and evaporated and dried milk, and it is expected that the biggest increases will occur in the vicinity of processing plants, but because of the increase in consumer purchasing power and the need for better nutrition more milk should be produced in all sections of the country.

More Soybean Acreage Needed

A recent survey made by the Extension Service of the Missouri College of Agriculture indicates a need for additional seed for planting the intended soybean acreage in certain areas.

Since there is a need for additional soybeans in the war program to produce oil, it is anticipated that an increased acreage will be planted of oil bearing varieties.

The varieties recommended by the Missouri Experiment Station for seed production include: Dunfield, Manchou, Chief, Scioto, Missouri Selection 54563-3, Macoupin, Illinois.

Soybeans can be grown successfully on most any farm land; however, greater yields will be obtained on the more fertile land. Since the soybean plant has a tendency to loosen the soil and cause it to erode severely, the soybean acreage should be limited to the more level land and plans made to follow the soybean crop with small grain next fall so that the land will be covered during the fall, winter, and spring months.

With the present prices of soybean seed, single rows may be a preferable method of planting for seed production. This method will take less seed to plant a given acreage and the soybeans can be cultivated to keep down weeds.

It is important since weeds and grass will materially reduce seed yields.

Don't Discard Proved Varieties

Any standard fruit variety that has given good results in the past should not be discarded in favor of new highly-advertised varieties unless the new variety has been well tested and proved superior, cautions W. R. Martin of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture.

The following varieties have been well tested and have been found to be well adapted to average Missouri conditions:

For the family supply of strawberries a planting of one-half Premier and one-half Blakemore is suggested—the Premier for fresh fruit use and the Blakemore for canning and freezing. In extreme southern counties, Klondyke may be used instead of Premier, and Aroma added to the list if desired.

The blackberry planting could be half Early Harvest and other half Eldorado or Alfred—the Early Harvest for June fruit and the Alfred or Eldorado for July fruit.

Use Natural Sweets As Substitutes

Home And Cane Sorghum Can Take Place Of Sugar

Some of the natural sweets—honey and cane sorghum—produced in Missouri can be used effectively as a substitute for sugar in the average family diet, says Miss Flora L. Carl of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture. The use of such substitutes will not only help to avoid any inconvenience caused by the sugar rationing program, but will probably actually give the average family a better diet.

Honey can be used in making breads, cakes, and cookies, in place of or in combination with sugar. When it is used in these baked products, they improve in flavor and texture if kept several days before being used. Honey causes cakes and cookies to absorb rather than to lose moisture—a distinct advantage when it is desired to bake ahead.

Molasses is often called the success secret of such foods as baked beans, Boston brown bread, crisp and also soft dark cookies, gingerbread, and various puddings. It carries more protective food material than any of our other sweets, and is a good source of minerals—particularly iron and calcium—as well as having a high caloric value.

Natural sweets as honey, sorghum, maple syrup, and corn syrup not only give energy but also iron for red blood, and calcium and phosphorus to build and keep strong bones and sound teeth.

Molasses made from sugar cane is high in flavor, colors, and minerals. The sugars in corn syrup do not crystallize as early as do other sugars, and it is used in feeding infants since it can be absorbed very quickly and completely by very delicate digestive systems. Maple syrup is not as high in minerals as most of the other syrups but it is valuable because of its special flavor.

The home grape planting might include three varieties of black grapes—Fredonia, Concord and Sheridan.

Two new varieties of gooseberries—Pixwell and Glendale—are very promising since apparently they are much more resistant to the summer heat than the older varieties.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS ACIDS

Help 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes Flush Out Poisonous Waste

If you have an excess of acids in your blood, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may be overworked. These tiny filters and tubes are working day and night to help Nature rid your system of excess acids and poisonous waste. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Kidneys may need help the same as bowels; so ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Serial Story

Kings Row

THE STORY: Schoolmates in smalltown Kings Row are orphaned Parris, Mitchell, desperately ill after a severe fever of childhood sweetheart Renee beats her, whisks her away; "tall boy" Drake McHugh; tomboy Randy Monaghan; beautiful Cassandra Tower whose doctor father, town mystery, takes her out of school after social snub from Gordons; Louise Gordon, leading physician's daughter; half-wit Benny Singer, brunt of schoolboy jokes, whom lawyer Skeffington saves from jail when Benny challenges attack from bully Fulmer Green and gang. Other characters: Madame von Eln, Parris' French grandmother whom he adores; surgeon Dr. Gordon whom he fears; Tom Carr, Madame's new over-seer.

STRANGE FRIENDSHIP

CHAPTER VIII

PARRIS told his grandmother the story that evening after supper. She was indignant. So was Colonel Skeffington, whom they met on the bank steps next day.

"Are they going to do anything about the Singer boy, Colonel?" "Not now, but somebody will aggravate that boy until he does something desperate. 'Twon't be his fault, but they'll blame him, and he'll be in serious trouble."

"Don't you think it would be a good idea to get some sort of employment for him—out of the way somewhere?"

"It would, ma'am. A mighty sensible one. I don't suppose you could take him on your place, could you?"

"I've got more help of that kind than I can use, but if you can't find anything else, let me know. I'm sure he doesn't belong in the asylum, as people are saying."

Colonel Skeffington flared above his shining red beard. "There you are now! Did you ever notice, Marie, how in this town everybody's always ready to send somebody to the asylum? It's a fact. I think it's a bad thing to have a lunatic asylum in this town." He chuckled and clapped his hand. "What's more, if you'd turn all the lunatics out and put the rest of us in there, I doubt if you could tell any difference."

TOM CARR moved into the over-seer's cottage the following week. Parris went down to watch the men unload the household stuff. Mr. Carr was the most extraordinary-looking apparition Parris had ever seen.

Mr. Carr was so lively and said so many funny things that Parris laughed. He realized he hadn't laughed much in a long time.

"Oh, you've got a piano!" Parris exclaimed. "Do you play?"

"No, my wife plays. It was her piano when she was a girl. I brought it out from the East with us. Years ago." He added the last two words a bit sadly.

"I'll see you later, Sonny; you must come down often and play for Lucy."

Parris grinned. Decidedly Mr. Carr was a very different sort of person from Sven Gyllinson. The thought of Sven made him "go goose flesh" all over.

It was nearly dark when Tom Carr's horse and cart came in sight again, creaking and creeping along the sandy road. In it was the fattest woman Parris had ever seen.

Lucy Carr wore a dress trimmed with many colors. Innumerable strings of beads lay about her neck, and many cheap rings shone on her tiny hands—deformed-looking, helpless little hands—so tiny that they seemed like doll hands attached to her enormous arms.

The cart rolled into the back yard. Tom Carr hopped out gaily, detached a little ladder, and set it close to the wheel. "Now, then, sweetheart, here we are. Give me your hands. Upside-down!"

"Ha!" once or twice, and then "Ho! Ho! Ho!"

"Lucy, my love, this is Mrs. von Eln's grandson. Name's Sonny."

She leaned so heavily on Tom Carr that he almost carried her. At the door she turned her ponderous weight slowly. She gasped out some words. "Glad, Sonny, glad."

Tom Carr had proved to be a valuable man. Madame was delighted. Parris went to see the Carrs two or three times a week. Lucy always made him play for her. Sometimes she struggled to the piano and played for him. The sounds were as mad as Lucy Carr herself.

Mr. Carr talked once or twice of Lucy to Madame von Eln. "She was a pretty girl, Mrs. von Eln, and a happy girl. A proud girl, too. When we ran out of money it seemed she just couldn't stand the snubs she got here in Kings Row. She just went out of her head. Then she was happy. I made up my mind she should stay happy. Lucy likes your boy, Mrs. von Eln. I've never seen her take to anyone so before."

A STRANGE friendship sprang up between Lucy Carr and Parris. It had begun a few days after the Carrs arrived. Old Tom saw Parris and hailed him.

"Are you busy right now?" "No, sir."

"Well, Lucy's been asking about you. Wants to see you."

"Me?"

"Yep. Took a fancy to you right off. Tell you what you do. Go down and see her. Let her talk to you for a little while. She gets pretty lonesome."

The mind of Lucy Carr was like something flying in dizzy circles. It darted in and out of the darkness that encompassed her, that pressed always closer as though waiting to engulf her. Parris felt sometimes that if he could only seize her flickering attention and fasten it down, she would suddenly become herself.

"I used to take Lucy to the circus," Tom Carr told Madame one day in late spring. "If you don't mind, I'll take tomorrow off, ma'am. I thought maybe she'd enjoy it again."

When Parris and his grandmother returned that afternoon, they saw Tom's cart before the cottage. He asked to have Uncle Henry fetch the doctor.

"Excitement," said Dr. Gordon, giving Lucy a sleeping powder.

Later Parris went down to the little house and tiptoed into the front room. Lucy Carr lay on the bed and Tom was rocking her gently, crooning in his deep bass voice.

Lucy saw him. "Look, honey, it's Sonny. Glad, Sonny."

Parris sat down on the edge of a chair and waited. She closed her eyes and slept for a while. Her breathing was louder than he had ever heard it, though she always struggled to get air. It sounded like the turn of a rusty wheel.

Lucy opened her eyes after a while. They seemed to roll loosely in her head. "Sonny, play," she gasped.

Parris sat down and began to play. The weird sounds jingled and crackled under his fingers.

He played on and on. He heard her breath come more and more slowly, but he thought the awful cranking sound was more frequent.

The afternoon light faded, and the still spring twilight came on gradually. Still Parris played on and on. He thought Lucy must be falling asleep. He could scarcely hear her. The insane wailing music that came from the piano was beginning to make his head ache. The creak of the rockers on the floor slowed and stopped.

Tom Carr laid a hand on his shoulder. "That will do now. Thank you, Sonny."

"Is she asleep, Mr. Carr?" Tom Carr shook his head. "She's dead. Will you tell your grandmother, please? And—thank you again, Sonny."

Mind Your Manners

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. When introduced to a novelist would it be courteous to volunteer the information, "I haven't read your book?"
2. When introduced to an actress is "I saw you in such and such a play" a good conversational lead?
3. When introduced to a celebrity should you mention the names of other celebrities you have met so as to impress him with the fact that you get around?
4. Is it a good idea to say "How do you like our town?" to a visitor?
5. Is it good manners to ask a person who has moved to a new place if he has made many friends?

- Answers
1. No.
 2. No. About all she can reply is "You did?"
 3. No.
 4. No. For all he can politely say is that he likes it fine.
 5. No. It implies he has to work at making friends.

Cranium Crackers

- Better have that income tax return filed by March 15, but here are some questions the collectors will not ask you:
1. What branch of the government collects the income tax?
 2. Why was it necessary to amend the Constitution before Congress could enact a valid income tax law?
 3. Name a prominent gangster sent to the penitentiary for failure to pay his income tax.
 4. Which is the biggest producer of federal revenue: income tax, liquor excise or the tariff?
 5. The governor of what state has proposed reducing his state's income tax rate 25 per cent to ease the burden caused by higher federal taxes?

Honey Into More General Use As Sugar Substitute

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—(AP)—The sugar shortage, the Department of Agriculture reported today, is returning many industrial users to the honey market for sweetening for ice cream, candy, soft drinks and other foods.

While these substantial purchases are boosting honey prices in most wholesale markets, beekeepers are being assured of sugar to keep their colonies healthy and productive of the sugar substitute.

Prospects are that the 1942 honey crop will be at least one-third greater than 1941's.

Sugar is needed within the honey industry during the winter and early spring. When honey has been removed from hives, beekeepers provide their bees with a solution of sugar and water without which they would starve. Production of honey depends upon both the number of bees and the growth of plants from which they extract nectar.

Rainfall throughout the north during the early and late autumn and snow covering during the winter, have led beekeepers to believe nectar-bearing plants will have a good growth over most of the country this spring and summer.

In addition to honey, another product derived from bees—beeswax—also faces a year of good demand. Cosmetics manufacturers are increasing their inquiries. Beeswax also is used extensively in candies.

Western Ball League Fights For Existence

War-time Choke Dampens The Chance Of Start

By ODELL HANSON
OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 19.—(AP)—Tottering and gasping, the Western Baseball League fought gamely today for the right to live in a country at war.

The oldest minor league in the country and in her day a springboard into the majors for many a big name, she is feeling the wartime choke.

Once a proud class "A" circuit, she has operated of late in class "D." Teams representing Pueblo and Denver, Colo., Cheyenne, Wyo., Sioux Falls, S. D., Sioux City Ia., and Norfolk, Neb., were members last season and plans had been made for boosting the classification to "C" with an eight-member league.

Then Norfolk a standby, dropped out. Sioux City club officials announced this week they virtually had abandoned plans for remaining in the league and Sioux Falls yesterday got an encouraging response to its overtures for a northern league franchise.

The remaining clubs, unsuccessful in attempts to crash the Pioneer league, were reported courting Albuquerque, N. M., for a franchise there.

Whether the 57-year-old league can survive this latest setback in a life checkered with troubles was a matter of speculation. Old time baseball followers recalled she has had both lush and bad days since that inaugural 1885 season when Indianapolis won the title. There were times when buggy-driving fans couldn't find hitching space within byways of the league's ball parks. Again fans stayed away in droves and the man with the mortgage haunted club owners.

As a class "A" circuit the Western folded in 1937 but popped up two seasons later in class "D" garments. Almost every town of 20,000 or more between upper Iowa and northern Texas, the Mississippi and the Rockies was a member at one time or another and names like Tony Lazzeri, Dizzy Dean, Carl Hubbell, Arky Vaughan, Heinie Manush and Fred Haney sprinkled its player lists.

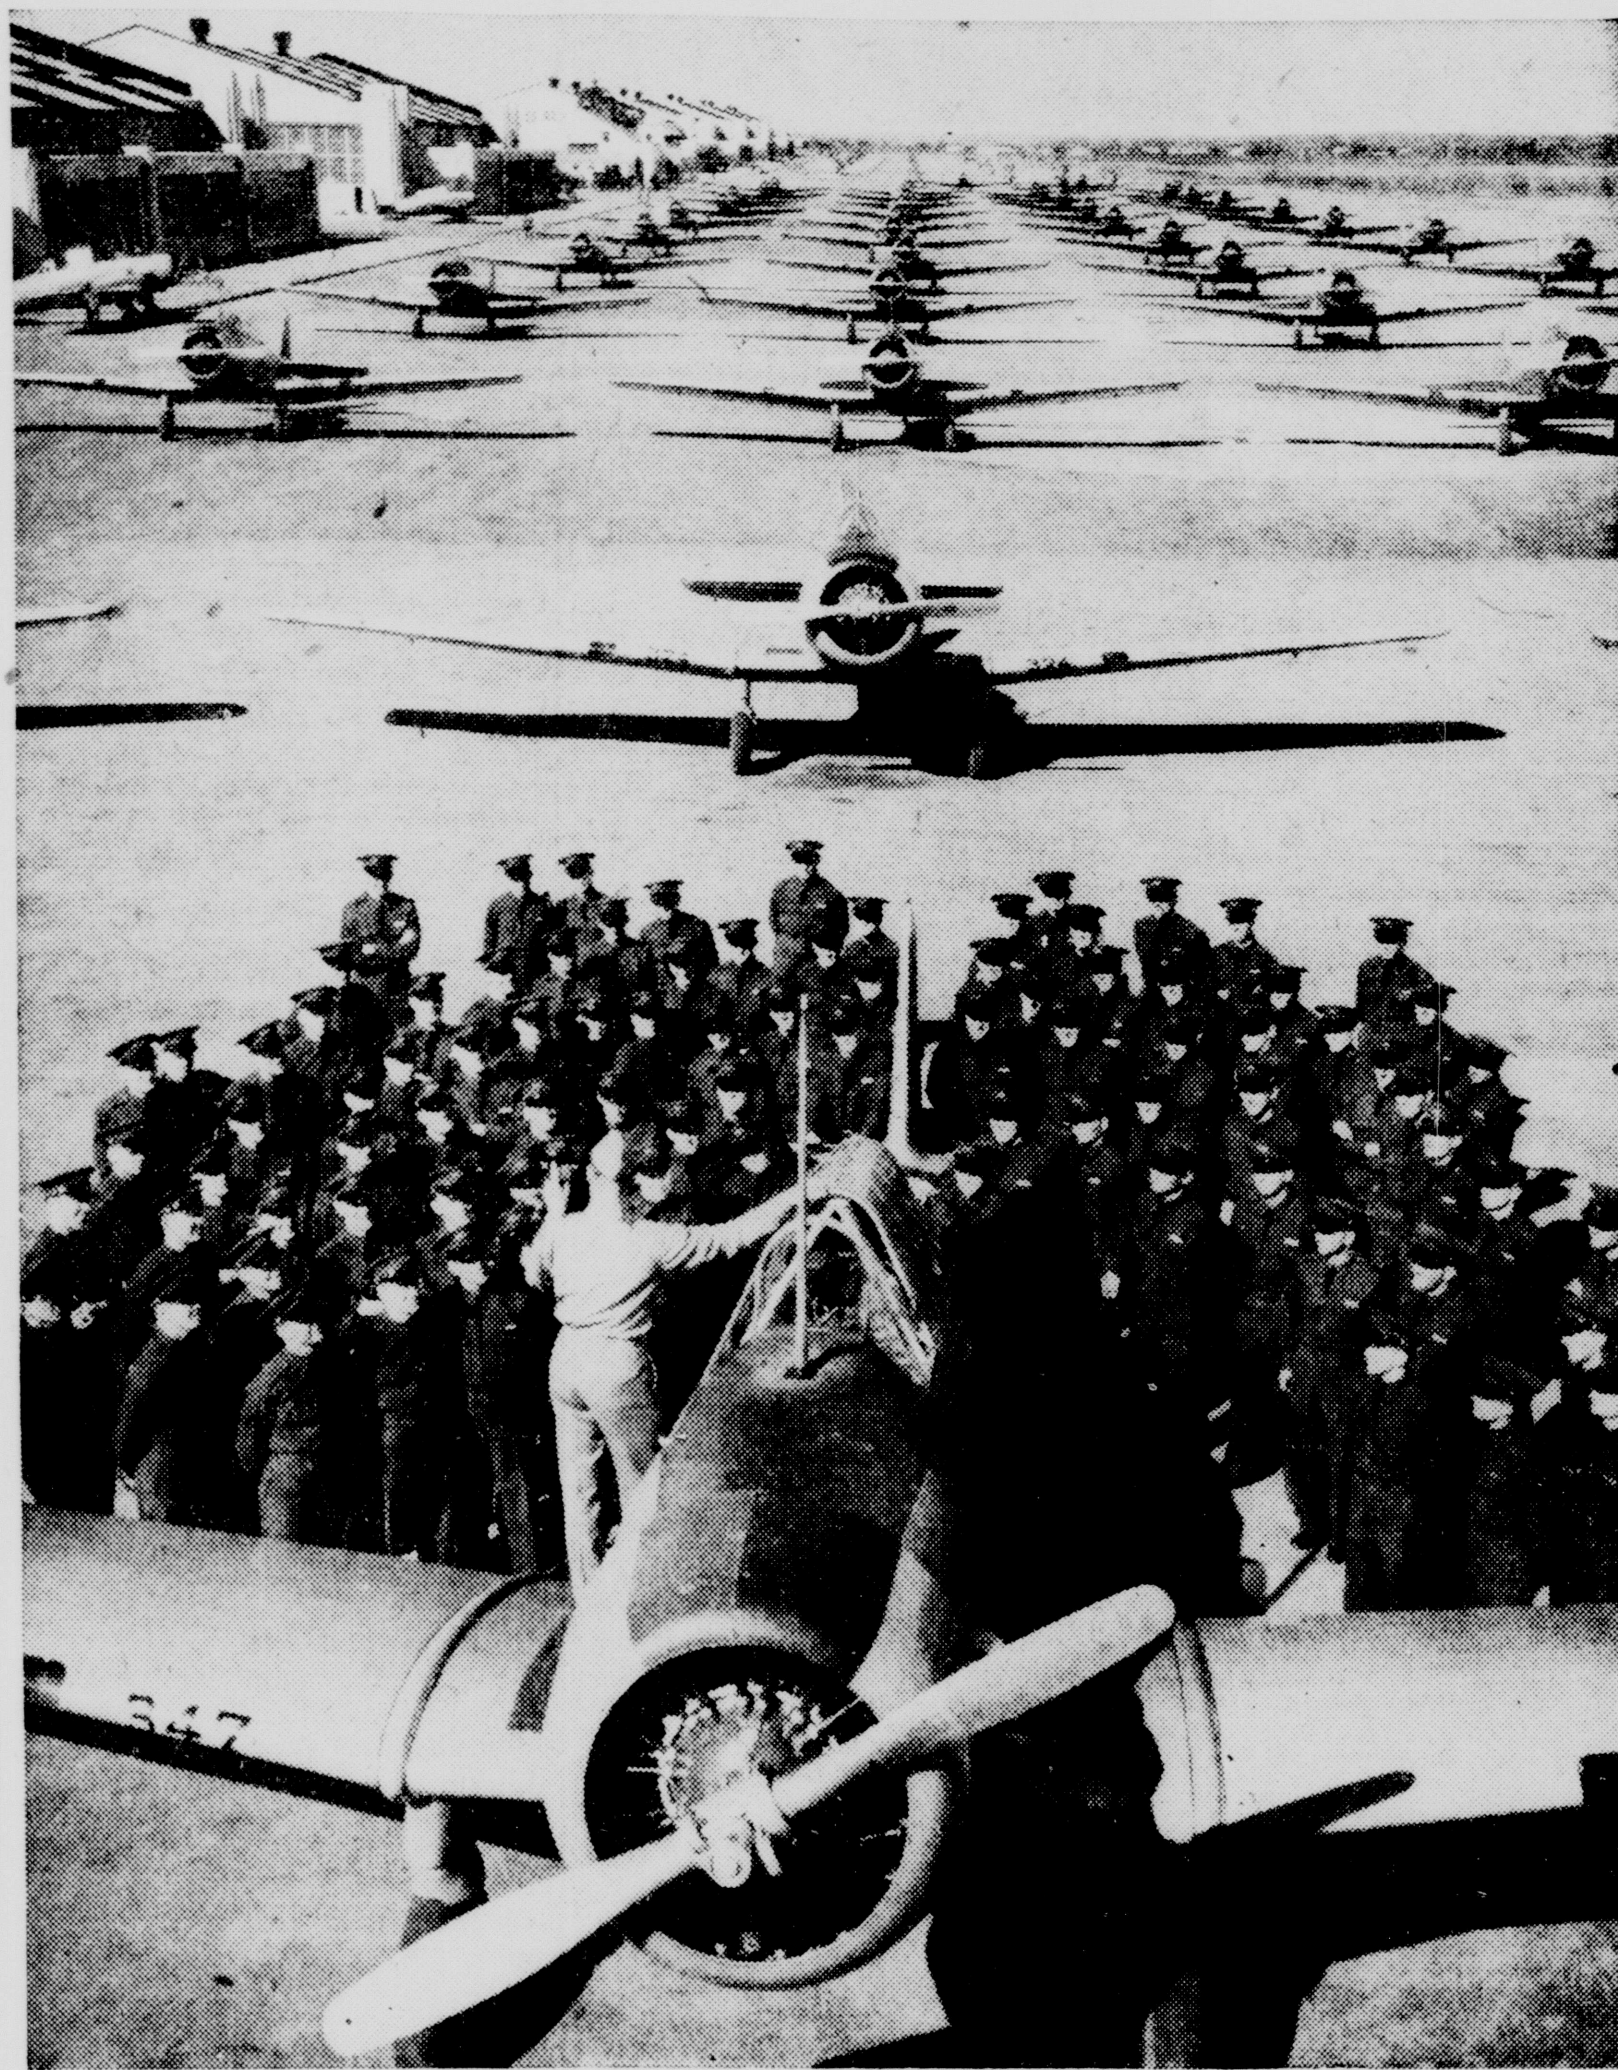

League memberships have been held by Oklahoma City, Tulsa, Des Moines, Omaha, Topeka, Kansas City, Minneapolis, Milwaukee, Wichita, St. Joseph, Mo., Davenport, Ia., Columbus Ohio, Hutchinson, Kas., Lincoln, Neb., and others.

DON'T BE FOOLED

AIR BLOWING ROCKING-CHAIR

According to the designer, this invention "protects the rockers against rocking on small children... provides for rocking with ease... and so serves as a support for babies whereby the occupant may... impel air upon himself through a flexible tube." With this unique device, the inventor hoped to "make a million." But he was fooled. He didn't get what he expected. To be sure you do, remember this:

With Those Who Know Their Bourbon Best It's

T.W. Samuels
GENUINE KENTUCKY STRAIGHT BOURBON WHISKEY

DON'T be fooled about whiskey's quality. What goes into the whiskey at the start is just as important now as it was a century back. We make our whiskey deep in the heart of Kentucky—in the genuine old-fashioned "slow" way we started over 100 years ago. We want our whiskey to get a good start—so age will really count. That's how we get such extra smoothness, extra richness. That's why T. W. Samuels—genuine Kentucky Straight Bourbon Whiskey every drop—sells best in the "bourbon country", where men know their bourbon best. Yes, T. W. Samuels costs more to make but not to drink. Try it yourself.
